

From Washington.
Washington, March 10.
The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Murray Whalon, as Collector of Erie, Pa.; J. S. M. Van Cleave as District Attorney for Washington Territory, and Andrew J. Thayer as District Attorney for Oregon.

Judge Holt has not today resigned the office of Commissioner of Patents. Had he done so while the Senate was in session, there would have been a legal necessity for the immediate appointment of his successor, for which the President is not yet prepared.

The Tribune correspondence says the vacant office of Commissioner of Patents has been offered to Mr. Hughes, ex-member of Congress from Indiana, and that Gov. Denver, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, has resigned, and will return to California. Col. Mix, Chief Clerk of the Indian Department is spoken of as his successor.

The Herald correspondence says the Senate yesterday confirmed the following appointments: C. W. Bradley and A. T. Roberts, residing in China, Commissioners under the China treaty, to settle claims; Mr. McDuffy, of California, Superintendent of Indian Affairs; H. V. King, Postmaster at Middletown, Washington, March 11.

Hon. R. A. Gillett, long connected with the Law Department of the government, has published an argument to show that the revenue of the Postoffice establishment can be applied after June next, to pay for transporting the mails, and other expenses of the Department, notwithstanding the failure of the Post office appropriation bill.

Washington, March 11.
Gen. Denver proposes to return to California by the next steamer, and this involves his recognition as Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

The Supreme Court today announced opinions in 17 cases, but did not deliver the opinions of time. The Court then adjourned to December next, having cleared less than half the calendar. The trial of Hon. Daniel E. Sickles will not probably take place till week after next. The Grand Jury not being inclined to give his case precedence over other.

The statement made up at the Treasury Department, shows that the circulation of the banks throughout the country in 1856, was $215,000,000; in 1857, $150,000,000; and in 1858, $103,000,000, and a third.

The remains of the late P. M. General were sent to Tenn., this afternoon, in charge of Justice Catron and Senator Johnson, and Col. Savage, of that State. The offer of the Adams Express Company having been accepted.

Elections.
In New Hampshire the Republicans have made a clean sweep, carrying both branches of the Legislature by hand-some majorities, and electing three Republican Members of Congress.

Bath, Maine, has gone Republican. In the State of New York, the Charter and Township Elections show large Republican gains.

Later returns put up as follows upon Supervisors:—Republican, 480; American, 23; Democrat, 204. The table in 1858 stood thus, in the same towns: Republicans, 455; Americans, 5; Democrats, 212. It will be seen that while both of the other parties have lost, the Republicans have gained.

The Republicans have carried Rochester, Oswego, Rome, Auburn, Syracuse, Poughkeepsie, Palmyra and Lyons. The Democrats have carried Troy.

In Galena, Ill., the Republicans have carried the Municipal Elections for the first time.

The election under the new city charter in Marshall, resulted in the triumph of the republicans by majorities ranging from 33 to 150. Five of the six Aldermen elected are republicans. Charles P. Dibble, (Rep.) is elected Mayor by 33 majority.

In Lapeer, a Union ticket was elected for corporation officers, no politics entering into the issue.

St. Johns, as usual democratic. In East Saginaw the Democrats have elected their charter officers, headed by W. L. P. Little for Mayor, as they have done for some time past.

In Coldwater the Republicans made a clean sweep by a majority of 211! And this, too, when two other tickets were in the field opposed to them.

In Ionia, no party lines were drawn, and a Union ticket was elected.

In Lyons, Ionia county, the same thing is true, a Union ticket being chosen.

English Fears of the French Army and Navy.

At a public dinner in London the day before the Jura sailed, Admiral Napier and Gen. Thompson were called out in response to the toast of "The Army and Navy." The gallant General did not believe that we were at this moment in a state of safety. He advised that a good look-out be kept, lest any slippery turn should be played us.

Charles Napier also took a gloomy view of things. The French, he said, possessed 180 steam vessels in the commercial marine, and at least 150 steamers in their navy. England, it was true, possessed many more than this; but what was there to prevent the Emperor of the French from laying an embargo on all the vessels in his ports, using them as transports for his troops, and in a fortnight from such a time all his fleet might anchor in the Portland Roads. It was very well for people to say such things could not be done, but he was a warrior whose life had been passed in conflicts, and he knew what could be done, and he was sure the country was not at present secure, as regarded the national defense, from an invasion.

The Emperor of the French had twenty sail of the line which he could man, while England had only five sail of the line, at Cork. This, he thought, was not a safe state for this country to be in.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE GOVERNOR.

What are we doing?

Just about now, nothing is being done, says the Coldwater Republican, to secure the re-election of Hon. George Martin to the head of the Supreme Bench, and we may add that such is the fact in this County. It would seem that no general knowledge exists, that the first Monday in April is to bring with it, any more importance than attends the election of township officers for a year. Republicans must wake up to the fact that the most important judicial officer in the State is to be elected, and that the welfare and enforcement of Republican principles depends more upon a pure and able Judiciary, than upon any one other function of the State Government. We have a bench now, which is a source and object of just pride to us. It is a body of wise, harmonious, clear headed, industrious men, of pure character, and of honest hearts. Our opponents would take the head of this bench, and in its stead, place a weak and incongruous one of their own choosing, in order if possible to embarrass the consultations, and to hinder the action, and destroy the utility of this whole branch of government. It is our duty, Republicans, who put these officers in power, who placed upon them the responsibilities of which they have so far, well acquitted themselves, to enable them to preserve their usefulness, by keeping them together. Their usefulness increases the longer they are kept together, and well as the people are now satisfied with them, another constitutional term will add to their efficacy; will increase their legal experience, and make them still more worthy of praise and of confidence.

A pure Judiciary is no light benefit, to be trifled away by neglect of a day's labor. Once lost it may never be regained, and while in possession, like the common light, air and water, it excites no remark—being gone, its loss would become the subject of hourly notice, and of bitter and unavailing regret.

The republican organization in Michigan is good—probably never better than in November last—still, machinery need watching, and some slight repairs, to keep it in running order. It is high time now, to see that everything is in readiness, and every man at his post. Of course no body expects meetings, speeches or parades. Detail work is all that can be made useful, but that should be bestowed promptly, and our enemies will triumph, and we shall be sorry for it.

What it will decide.

The election soon to take place in this State will decide whether the people of Michigan approve or condemn the veto of the St. Clair Flats appropriation, the Homestead Bill, and the Agricultural College Bill. If our citizens are opposed to all these measures they will vote for Felch, who was nominated by a Buchanan Convention, and placed upon a Buchanan platform. If not, they will vote for Judge MARTIN.

The late charter election in Dowagiac resulted in the election of the Democratic ticket.

We copy the above from the Cassopolis National Democrat, merely to show our readers how much dependence there is to be placed upon any statement that may emanate from that sheet. The only word of truth in the above paragraph is, that "Joel H. Smith was elected," and we must believe that when the editor penned the lines he knew they were false, but such is the mode adopted by democratic editors throughout the country to get up a little enthusiasm.

School District Libraries.

We presume that most of our readers are aware that an act was passed at the late session of the Legislature authorizing the legal voters of the several townships in this State, to decide by ballot, at the ensuing election, whether the present Township Library system shall remain in force, or whether they will change it to School District Libraries. For this purpose a separate box is to be provided, and those in favor of continuing the Township Library system can vote on the 4th of April for "Township Library," and those in favor of a change, for "District Libraries."

From the provisions of the law following, which we copy from the Detroit Advertiser, our readers can see how they can make the change if they desire it, and also that they can decide by vote whether $25 or $50 shall be annually taken from the two mill tax for library purposes, or whether none shall be thus appropriated.

In case a majority of the electors vote for the latter the township inspectors are required at their next meeting thereafter, to divide the Township Libraries equally amongst the districts, in proportion to the number of scholars and deliver them to the several District Boards, who shall be held accountable for the same, appoint a Librarian and determine the place where they shall be kept, when the District School House may not be secure. The Library money belonging to such township shall also be divided in the same manner as the books.

It is made the duty of the State Board of Education to contract with the lowest bidder for suitable books for such libraries, unsectarian in character, a list of which the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall furnish to the Director of each school district and each township Clerk previous to the first of January of each year, from which the District Board or Township Board of Inspectors may select books to the amount desired by the district or township. The contractors for furnishing such books shall cause, such as may be selected, to be forwarded to such points on any main thoroughfares as the District or Township Boards may direct.

Besides the vote by ballot to decide upon the continuance of the present library system, the Primary School law, section 107, was so amended as to require the Supervisors of the several townships to assess a tax of two mills upon the valuation of the taxable property of the same; and the qualified electors thereof are to decide by a vote, or in such manner as the meeting may determine, what proportion of this two mill tax shall be appropriated to the purchase of books for the Township or District Libraries, and the remainder of said tax is to belong to the district in which it was raised for the support of schools therein. The proportion of the two mill tax thus voted for library purposes, is to be in lieu of the twenty-five dollars heretofore annually made to township libraries, which is annulled.

MORE PRO-SLAVERY MOVEMENTS.
The emissaries of the Pro-Slavery propaganda, have begun operations in New Mexico. The territorial legislature of this budding Slave State has passed, with but one opposing vote, a bill protecting slavery there and prohibiting emancipation. This is the section where we were told it would be impossible for slavery to exist, and that hence the effort made to extend the Wilnot Proviso over at the time of its organization, was futile and impertinent. The result shows who was right. Slavery will probably secure a firm hold upon New Mexico. We shall next hear of the Propaganda in Arizona.

Eight new Senators took their seats in the Senate of the United States at the commencement of the extra session on Friday week, to wit: Rhode Island, Henry B. Anthony, v. Philip Allen; Delaware, William L. Garrison, v. Martin W. Bates; Michigan, Kinsley S. Bingham, v. Charles E. Stuart; Iowa, James W. Grimes, v. Geo. W. Jones; North Carolina, Thomas Bragg, v. David S. Reid; Kentucky, Lazarus W. Powell, v. J. B. Thompson; Tenn. A. O. P. Nicholson, v. John Bell; Texas, J. W. Hemphill, v. Sam Houston. Ten of the old members have been re-elected, and there will be three vacancies—one in New Jersey, one in Minnesota, and one in Oregon.

The landless citizens of Michigan should remember that Ex-Gov. Felch, the present Democratic nominee for Supreme Judge, when he was in the U. S. Senate, was a bitter opponent of the Homestead Law which has again been killed by a Democratic Congress. Friends of Free Homes for All pin this scrape in your hat and see to it that the name of George Martin is inscribed on your ballot for Chief Justice when you deposit your vote at the Judicial Election on Monday, the 4th day of April.

Robert McLane, who is to go out Minister to Mexico, is son to Louis McLane, of Delaware, who was Secretary of State under General Jackson, succeeding Edward Livingston to that office. He was a prominent member of Congress, representing the Baltimore District of Maryland during the Polk Administration, and was subsequently American Minister to China. In the Cincinnati Convention he supported Gen. Pierce, which accounts for the appointment.

Death of A. V. Brown, Postmaster General.

Aaron Vail Brown, Postmaster General of the United States, died at his residence in Washington, on Wednesday morning last, about half past nine o'clock. His disease was pneumonia.

Mr. Brown was born in Brunswick county, Virginia, August 15th, 1795; graduated at Chapel Hill, in North Carolina, in 1814; removed with his parents to Giles county, Tennessee, in 1815, and commenced the study of law with Judge Trimble in the same year, at Nashville; soon afterward formed a partnership with James K. Polk, which was continued until the election of the latter to Congress; was in the Tennessee Legislature from 1821 to 1832; and from the latter year to 1839, when he was elected to Congress, devoted himself wholly and with considerable success to the practice of his profession; served in Congress until 1845, when he was chosen Governor of the State of his adoption. After the expiration of his gubernatorial term, Mr. Brown measurably retired from public life; in 1850, however, he was a delegate to a Southern Commercial Convention at Nashville, where he submitted an elaborate report which was known as the Tennessee platform. He was also in the Baltimore Convention of 1852, which nominated Franklin Pierce, and reported the platform which was adopted on that occasion. He filled no public station thereafter until the election of Buchanan, whom he warmly supported, when he was called to a place in the Cabinet.

On the 27th of April next Mrs. Hartung is to be hung, in Albany, for the murder of her husband. This public execution of a woman for any crime is a horrible spectacle, and it ought of itself to be a source of thankfulness and gratitude that no such exhibitions can be had in our State. If anybody is to be hung for murder, we suppose there is no good reason why women should be made an exception. But that it is sometimes necessary to hang women, is a good reason why nobody should be hung, unless there should be better evidence than we have ever seen that hanging prevents murder. She was sentenced on Wednesday week, and strenuously denied that she was guilty of the crime for which she had been sentenced to death.

The great Brooklyn Navy Yard fraud Investigating Committee have made their report, and it appears at length in the New York Tribune of Friday. It discloses some most stupendous corruptions, and implicates the President of the United States, James Buchanan himself, the great embodiment of the Democratic party of this Union—the man who was so cordially and affectionately endorsed by the late Democratic State Judicial Convention. This model Democrat is proved before a committee of Congress to have recommended that the United States Treasury should pay $4,000 to a firm of machinists in Philadelphia as the consideration for employing 450 men to vote for the re-election of Col. T. B. Florence to Congress.

OPPRESSING THE POOR.—The New York Tribune of Saturday gives an account of an interview of one of its reporters had just had with a poor woman who was making cloth caps, such as are sold by our hatters, at two cents apiece! This was the utmost her grasping employer would give her, and she could barely earn ten shillings a week. Upon this miserable pittance she was compelled to support herself and a family of two children!

A Florida paper says that a new party is being organized down in the Florida Swamps to be styled "The Sons of the Soil." One of the objects is said to be to proscribize citizens of Northern birth.—Exchange.

And Florida has a Representative in Congress on 10,000 votes, while in the free States it requires over 30,000 votes for a Representative. But these southern fellows are intense "democrats," and talk loudly about "northern aggressions," and the abused "rights of the South!"

Judge Betts, of the United States Circuit Court, Philadelphia, has decided that the newspaper reporters ought to be, if they were not exempt from jury duty. The name of a Mr. Graham, an attaché of one of the newspapers, being called for the petit jury, he begged to be excused, and on appeal to the Court the excuse was admitted.

Mrs. Sickles has returned to New York and will reside in a house at Bloomingdale, the use of which is granted to her by Mr. Sickles as long as she remains under the protection of her father. Her little daughter will, for the present, remain with her.

Hon. Henry Waldron will please accept our thanks for Congressional favors.

From New York.

New York, March 12.
A despatch from New Orleans, gives additional news from Mexico by the Quaker City. The Liberals were concentrating for the long promised attack upon the capitol, while Miramon was hastening towards Vera Cruz, all the troops from the other ports down the coast, and it was feared the conservatives would seize the occasion to exact forced loans at such unprotected ports.

Gen. Ampudia had declared for the Constitution, changing over to the Liberal cause his force of 5000.

The garrison at Tampico had made an attempt to pronounce for Miramon, but it was promptly suppressed by Garcia.

A despatch to the daily Times says that Com. Stewart sent a letter to the President developing a new chapter in the secret history of the country. The letter asserts that the gun boat navy of President Jefferson, which was ostensibly built for the protection of our sea coast was really intended for the seizure of Cuba. 180 of these boats were sent southward on that special service, when the threatening condition of our relations with England, rendered the postponement of the project necessary.

The steamship City of Baltimore sailed at noon for Liverpool, with 140 passengers and $175,000 in specie.

Where the Honor Belongs.

The honor of having defeated the administration in its attempt to double the postage on letters, belongs to the Republican members of Congress. But for the manly firmness with which they resisted the attempt to increase the revenue of the government by taxing the people of this and other Northern States, they would now be compelled to pay five cents instead of three for every letter sent under three thousand miles, and ten cents instead of five for all over that distance. The whole effort of the administration has been to impose new burdens upon the people of the North, for the benefit either of the party generally or the slave aristocracy of the South; while such measures as encouragement to agriculture, a homestead bill, and improvements of our rivers and harbors, have all been indignantly defeated by the exercise of the veto power, or the casting vote of the Vice President!—Detroit Ad.

[From the Baltimore Exchange, March 4.]

Capture of a Slave—850 Negroes on Board.—Suicide of the Captain. Captain Kirch of the brig Francis Jane, from Mayaguez, and Captain Staples of the schooner Mohawk, from Ponce, P. R., report that a Spanish bark from the coast of Africa, with 850 negroes on board, while attempting to effect a landing, had gone ashore, about the 6th ult., on a reef on the east end of the island, and went to pieces, and it was reported that the Captain of the slave had committed suicide. The authorities immediately despatched a government steamer to her, but she had not returned at the time of the departure of the above vessels.

DIAMONDS.—"Jenkins" writes from Washington, that a Mrs. P., of New York, the wife of a linseed oil manufacturer, wore to the Napier ball, diamonds valued at $100,000, and lace worth $11,000. Her heavy tiara and necklace were wholly composed of diamonds, and her breast-plate was of diamond leaves. She stood "knee deep"—Jenkins' elegant expression—in old chench lace, an Italian fabric of exceeding delicacy, the secret of the manufacture of which has long been lost. It fell over blue silk from her knees to her feet, and also in graceful folds over her bosom. The lady sat during the whole evening by a window opening from a side room into the dancing halls, in a position where the light could fall favorably upon her opulence. But she did not dare to enter the crowd, for fear that the lace might be injured, or the diamonds ravished from her person.

A MAN KILLED BY A WOLF.—Mr. King, who carries the mail on the route from Port Sanilac to this place, vouches for the following:—A few days since, a man, while chopping in the woods some six miles west of Lexington, Sanilac county, near his own dwelling, was attacked by a ferocious wolf, which, at the first signal, grasped his victim by the throat. The wife, standing in the door of the house, saw the position of her husband, and, running up, seized his axe, and with one blow upon the back of the wolf, so disabled him as to make him release his hold. A few more blows finished him entirely, but not until the wolf had succeeded in cutting the throat of her husband, so that he expired almost immediately.—Tuscola Pioneer.

Piccolomini was kissed in Cincinnati the other day, by a young man who mistook her for a sister he had gone to the hotel to meet after a two years' absence. But she declared it did not hurt her, and that the operation was not "vat you say eet is dees-a-grable." So the matter ended.

The Jackson Patriot had the honesty to declare itself very decidedly in favor of a registry law, before the Free Press and the leaders of the slave Democracy in the State took ground against it. But upon getting its cue from head quarters, it turned a sudden somersault, and is now one of its bitterest opponents. This is modern Locofoco consistency and honesty. It has had the courage, however, to publish this law, which is more than the Free Press dare to do.—Det. Adv.

Worms! Worms!

Various stories have been started relative to the origin of intestinal worms, and yet the question is still a vexed one among medical authorities. Of one fact, however, all are informed, and in which all agree—the fatal nature of the influence they exert on children. At this season of the year, the attacks of worms are most frequent as well as most dangerous. We take great pleasure in directing the attention of parents to the Vermifuge of Dr. McLane, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh. It is one of the most extraordinary medicines ever introduced to the public, and has never failed of success when tried.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. McLane's celebrated Vermifuge, manufactured by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. McLane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of 11 FLEMING BROS.

Hostetter's celebrated Stomach Bitters, for Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Nerves or Chronic Debility—are very pleasant in taste and smell, and can be taken under any circumstances. In all cases of diseases of the stomach, whether acute or chronic, it may be recommended for its soothing, cordial and renovating influence. Dyspepsia, heartburn, loss of appetite, nausea, nervous tremors, relaxation, debility, &c., are relieved by the Bitters in a very short space of time, and a perseverance in their use never fails to work a thorough cure. Kept at all the popular saloons, and principal drug stores.
